He has appeared in many celebrated cases for corpora. trusts to luck, tions and in many celebrated cases as the legal spokesman of the people.

His principal critic was the larm-labor sen-the but when woman went ator elect from the state of Minnesota, who objected to the appointment of Butler for the reason that the latter had been very successful as a practitioner and had numbered among his clients many of the great corporations of the country.

All the able lawyers of Amreica represent corporations if they are given an opportunity. but this does not carry with it the suggestion that they sell themselves body and soul to their clients.

Many of the brightest corporation lawyers the country has known close their careers as findges of high courts who had won the confidence as well as the admiration of the Ameri- America and England while they continue to Fean people whom they had served. Pierce Butler was born on a farm when Minnesota was a wilderness, ludians were his neighbors in his boyhood. Daily he walked four miles through the snow and slush to attend the little country schoolhouse on the hill. He traveled a rocky road but he won in the long run.

He became a famous lawyer before he was forty and now at fifty-six he has been named an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States. He never held a political offiec. He has been a regent of the University of Minnesota for many years. He was appointed by the late John Johnson, the greatest American Swede America has known.

Johnson was borned in a lowly cabin. He was a self-made man. He was a democrat and thrice elected governor of his native state, a tstate where the republican majority rolls as young man who gets married in times like high as a hundred thousand.

Piercee Butler had four sons in France and all wore the uniform. He had a young daughter in France who volunteered as a nurse and in Pierce Butler is not an American but a man you to get me a thing for Christmas." France she died. GARY LOOKING FORWARD.

Judge Elbert H. Gary of the United States Steel Company has issued his forecast of American business conditions for the next twelve months. Commerce he says is bound to take the upward trend if "we do not have prosperity this year it will because of agitation and it which are directed against the general welfare.

He believes the nation's business will weather the present burden of taxation but to add more taxes would put the future in doubt . Essential also he≠aid is an adequate knowledge by the general public of all the facts in intion of industry and labor.

He advises the public that it is carrying a heavy governmental financial burden and that it must recken on some time to come on taxes that will be none too easy to bear. On the other hand he can not see others in good husiness ahead provided natural economical promise is interferred with.

He declares that the greatest danger to the try is in the possibility that attempts may be prosperous of all nations. An American dollar is worth consistent and logical development of the counious laws of man for the laws of nature, thereby interrupting the even movement of supply and a hundred cents, demand. There are many vicious bills pending in congress, according to the Gary survey which bear upon economic promise.

It is his conviction that they tend to unsettled industry and to undue fear. A republican. he does not take kindly to the tariff enacted by our republican congress, holding that the saving grave of the law is that is provisions 4 may be modified by the president.
